

MOI UNIVERSITY

Citizen Journalism and democracy in Africa: New Questions in a New Era

A workshop organised by University of Westminster and Moi University, Kenya, in association with the UK-Africa Media and Democracy Research Network

Friday 9th May 2014

Time	Activity	Speaker	chair
8.00 - 9.00	Registration Tea and snacks
9.00 - 9.15	Introductions and brief about the workshop	Dr. Mano University of Westminster, UK	Dr. Lynete Lusike
9.15 - 9.30	Opening remarks	Prof. Loice Maru Campus Director, Moi University, Nairobi Campus
9.30 - 10.00	Key Note address: The possibilities and limits of citizen journalism from a newsroom perspective	Linus Kaikai, Managing Editor, NTV
10.00 - 10.30	Question & Answer session
10.30 - 11.00	Tea break
11.00 - 11.20	Audiovisual presentation: Video on Citizen Journalism		Dr. Masibo Lumala
11.20 - 11.45	Reflections on Citizen Journalism	Dr. Juliet Macharia Moi University
11.45 - 12.30	Panel Discussions and Q&A: Churchill Otieno (Nation), Vincent Ateya (Mediamax Radio), Patience Nyange (BBC Media Action), Emmanuel Kola (KBC), Ruth Kendagor (Moi University)

12.30-1.30	Lunch
1.30 - 1.45	Citizen Journalism and the international media	Wanyama Chebusiri, BBC	Dr. Juliet Macharia
1.45 – 2.00	Citizen Journalism and Democracy in Africa focusing on Radio Broadcasting in Kenya	Jared Ombui KBC
2.00 - 2.15	The impact of Citizen Journalism on KBC news production: My experiences as a news editor	Mary Daraja, KBC
2.15 - 2.30	The new infrastructural expectations in Kenya and their potential impact on citizen journalism	Matu Nguri, Moi University
2.45 – 3.00	Discussions
3.00-3.15	Tea Break
3.15 – 3.25	From Scribblers to Scribes: Self-censorship as Peace journalism in the Kenyan Media	Victor Oluoch & Byron Ohanga, BBC	Mr. Matu Nguri
3.25 – 3.35	Citizens and Journalists: The new politics of mediation	Nicholas Benequista, London School of Economics & Networked News Lab,
3.35 – 3.45	The place of social media and ethnic polarization during university students' elections in Kenya	Dr. Masibo Lumala, Moi University
3.45 – 4.00	Discussions & Way forward	Prof Martin N. Ndlela Hedmark University College, Norway	Dr. Mano
4.00 - 4.30	Networking UK-Africa media and Democracy network	Dr. Winston Mano University of Westminster, UK

Rapporteurs:

Ruth Dero

Wattuman Memba

Michael Ojiambo